Claim Oil Prices Will Be Pegged To Inflation Rate

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Iranian government newspaper reported today that the United States and other major industrial countries have agreed that the price of crude oil should be pegged to an index of the major products the oil countries buy from the industrial nations.

Rastakhiz said following Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi's "successful" discussions with U.S. officials over the weekend, special envoys of the United States, France, the European Economic Community, Saudi Arabia and Iran met secretly in Tehran and agreed to hold an energy conference.

The report did not say when the conference would be held.

The shah some months ago proposed that the price of crude oil rise or fall in accordance with the worldwide rate of inflation, as indicated by the world market prices of some 30 other major commodities. Up to now, the United States and other major industrial nations have resisted the proposal.

The shah said in Washington Sunday that the members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries probably will raise prices in September to keep up with the rising prices of what they buy.

The shah said the oil countries have lost 35 per cent of their purchasing power because of world inflation, the shaky world monetary situation and the dollar's loss of purchasing power.

Speaking on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press," he said it was decided at the last OPEC meeting "to give the world a chance to curb their inflation, to check it, to put their house in order. That period will be terminated in September, so in September we are going to meet again and decide what to do."

Senate Sets Debate On U.S. Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major bills on weapons spending and the energy crisis are before Congress this week and the Senate plans to begin a "great debate" on U.S. defense and foreign policy.

The Senate today was considering President Ford's request that Congress lift its cutoff of U.S. military aid to Turkey.

Congress cut off the aid effective last Feb. 5 because of Turkey's occupation of Cyprus, but Ford contends resumption of the aid is needed to bring hope of renewed Cyprus peace negotiations.

In the aftermath of the end of U.S. involvement in Vietnam and Cambodia, a philosophically diverse mixture of senators including Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., will lead what they call the "great debate" on whether America should revise its defense and foreign policy and mow.

The debate is to be conducted in connection with a $30.3 billion military weapons authorization bill next month. The House expects to act on its $32 billion version of the bill tonight or Tuesday.

Rather than a "great debate," the House faced votes on specific amendments to cut major weapons systems, withdraw 70,000 U.S. troops worldwide and open up the three military academies to women.

Two House opponents of the Indochina war say they will try to defeat the 70,000-man troop cut for fear allies will see it as an American retreat from its foreign commitments.

Reps. David R. Obey, D-Wis., and James L. Oberstar, D-Minn., said such a misunderstanding of U.S. intentions would undermine "the trust and confidence that are the cornerstones of a stable and peaceful world."

An amendment to open up West Point, Annapolis and the Air Force Academy to women has been offered by Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y. He said the major argument against him will be that academy training would require women to go into combat. But he said 10 per cent of the male Army, Navy and Air Force officers produced by the academies have never had combat assignments, and women would not have to have them, either.

Under pressure from President Ford, the House plans to act Wednesday and Thursday on its answer to the energy crisis.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday that Congress has done very little in developing an energy program.

"The President has met Congress more than halfway," he said. "Unfortunately, I have to report in all candor that there is a great deal further for us to go." He advocated increasing the nation's oil reserves to a six-month supply, cutting speed limits to 45 miles an hour and reducing the use of air conditioning.

The House bill would raise gasoline taxes as high as 23 cents a gallon in steps if necessary to cut American fuel consumption. The bill also would set up a quota system to reduce foreign oil imports, tax new cars if they're gas guzzlers and tax some industrial use of fuel.

Kissinger, Gromyko Eye SALT Talks

VIENNA (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger at his meeting today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is willing to consider a compromise of one of the key U.S. positions in the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, a senior American official told newsmen accompanying Kissinger.

The official said Kissinger is willing to modify his position on verification procedures in hopes of getting a nuclear arms limitation treaty in time for the next Soviet-American summit meeting, now scheduled for next fall.

The official said that there have been indications that Moscow has some new ideas on how to verify that the two countries adhere to their agreed limit of 1,320 offensive missiles that can carry multiple warheads.

Kissinger previously took the position that "any missile that has been tested" to carry the multiple warheads — known as MIRV's — "will be counted by us as being MIRV-ed."

But the senior official said Sunday that Kissinger's past statements did not represent a fixed formula, and the United States is always willing to consider alternatives.

Kissinger will demand more than unilateral declarations by each government that it is adhering to the treaty, the official said. He also rules out on-site inspection as unworkable.

The official indicated that Kissinger might be willing to consider a plan under which some of the 300 Soviet missile silos might not be counted in the MIRV total if the United States is assured those exempted contain only single warheads.

Kissinger and Gromyko also will discuss the European summit conference that the Russians want held. But Kissinger was reported to feel that they could come to no binding agreement on this since the other European countries have to be consulted.

Ervin Reports Questions Linger

BELMONT, N.C. (AP) — Former Sen. Sam Ervin Jr., who is 78, says he would like lingering questions about Watergate and the assassination of President John F. Kennedy answered in his lifetime.

The recently retired North Carolina Democrat, who two years ago chaired the Senate's Watergate investigating committee, said Sunday that the Rockefeller Commission should reopen the Kennedy probe.

As for Watergate, he said only one big question remains — what was done with $100,000 by Bebe Rebozo, a friend of former President Richard M. Nixon.

"Virtually everything of any consequence came out with the exception of the $100,000 Bebe Rebozo said he kept in a safe deposit box. He's a banker, you know, and bankers like to draw interest," Ervin said.

Mayaguez Casualties More Than First Said

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thailand today accepted a note from the U.S. government expressing regret for the unauthorized use of Thai bases to attack Cambodia and recover the freighter Mayaguez.

The U.S. government revised the American toll in the Mayaguez operation sharply upward, announcing that five men were killed, 16 were missing and 70 to 80 were wounded. But the captain of the Mayaguez, Charles T. Miller, said in Singapore that seven dead Marines were already "on ice" when he was brought aboard the destroyer Wilson.

A senior American official reported that the Ford administration seriously considered using B52 bombers against Cambodia. The official said no one in the administration wanted to use the big bombers, but such action was a real possibility,

The Mayaguez left Singapore today for Hong Kong. The ship's owner denied a charge by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, that her cargo included a large number of plastic bombs and radio-electronic equipment. A spokesman said most of the cargo consigned to U.S. military bases in Thailand was post exchange goods.

Capt. Miller and members of his crew said the U.S. Marines who were landed on an island off the Cambodian coast to rescue them were put ashore on the wrong island. Miller said he and the crew were on Rong San Lem while the Marines landed on Koh Tang, about 25 miles away. A Pentagon spokesman confirmed the wrong-island landing.

In Laos, a dozen Americans and seven other foreigners detained by students in the town of Savannakhet radioed the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane that they were safe and well. Laotian government officials were negotiating with the students who took over the town on Wednesday and ordered the foreigners to remain in their homes.

An international relief official in Saigon reported that about two dozen Americans, 150 South Koreans and 200 Filipinos who wanted to be evacuated by U.S. forces on April 29-30 were left behind. Most of them arrived at the American Embassy too late because sufficient notice was not given of the evacuation plans, the official said.

Saigon radio said there was some starvation in the South Vietnamese capital because of the influx of refugees before the Communists occupied the city. But it said the new government distributed 1,100 tons of rice to more than 220,000 persons.

The new government also announced the liberation of all political prisoners from Con Son prison island.

Thailand's acceptance of the U.S. letter of regret defused a crisis between the United States and its last ally on the Southeast Asian mainland.

The Thais had demanded an apology by Tuesday and recalled their ambassador from Washington because U.S. Marines and planes were sent without Thai permission from bases in Thailand to rescue the Mayaguez and her crew.

The U.S. letter did not use the word "apologize," but Thai Foreign Minister Chatichai Choonhavan said it was acceptable because it reaffirmed U.S. respect for Thai sovereignty and indicated such an incident would not recur.

Chatichai sent a note to 100 student demonstrators at the U.S. Embassy asking them to disperse. The foreign minister said his government still intends to call home its ambassador from Washington but only for a short period while the government reviews economic and military agreements with the United States.

The student demonstrators burned effigies of Uncle Sam and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. But Premier Kukrit Pramoj rejected demands from them and from Socialist politicians that the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Thailand be speeded up.

Capt. Miller said the Cambodians did not mistreat his men, but he felt they would not have been freed without the U.S. military action.

U.S. Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger gave the new report of American casualties on a television program, ABC's "Issues and Answers."

He said the numbers were a "little higher" than the previous report of one killed, 13 missing and 22 wounded.

Mideast Actions Raise Tension

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Arab terrorist was killed by his own hand grenade while apparently preparing to hurl it from a roof into a crowd of students exercising in a schoolyard in northern Israel, police reported.

Teachers discovered the body of a 25-year-old Arab who had entered the school posing as a workman Sunday on the roof of an agricultural college in the Mediterranean port of Acre, police said. Fragments of the grenade were in his hand.

In Lebanon, the death toll of Arab children blown up while playing with an unexploded mortar shell in the border village of Aiteroun rose to nine when two of the five wounded died.

Lebanese officials said the shell was fired during a recent Israeli bombardment, but the Israelis denied this. The village was raided by Israeli troops twice last week.

Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin told a cabinet meeting that despite opposition from within his own Labor party, his government will build 500 apartments in the next two years at Sharm el-Sheikh, at the southern tip of the occupied Sinai Peninsula.

Although Israeli officials have often said Israel will never give up Sharm el-Sheikh because it commands the waterway to the southern Israeli port of Eilat, Rabin said the construction plans did not mean Israel was annexing the area.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt said he will be speaking for an Arab world united against Israel when he meets President Ford in Salzburg, Austria, on June 1. He told a news conference in Damascus, "I am sure that when I speak to President Ford, I am representing the views of the bigger majority of my colleagues, the Arab leaders."

Sadat made the statement at the end of a tour of Kuwait, Iraq, Jordan and Syria designed to forge a common stand for his talks with Ford. Yasir Arafat, head of the Palestine Liberation Organization, met Sadat in Damascus and was at his side during the news conference.

Egyptian sources said Arab leaders were agreed that (1) it is no longer realistic to talk of destroying the state of Israel; (2) they should get back what Israeli-occupied territory they can by force but explore other avenues; and (3) Sadat should ask Ford to pressure Israel for territorial concessions and agreement to a Palestinian state.

Sadat also indicated he expects a clear outline of U.S. policy from Ford, including whether Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger can still be of use as a mediator and the effect of American setbacks in Indochina on its role in the Middle East.

Kissinger is scheduled to discuss the Middle East situation on Tuesday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Vienna. But a high-ranking American official in Kissinger's party said he would make no commitment concerning resumption of the Geneva conference on the Middle East until after Ford sees Sadat in Salzburg and meets afterward with Rabin in Washington.

Storms Hit Wide Areas Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe thunderstorms erupted in widely scattered sections of the nation today following a Sunday of generally fair and hot weather with temperatures reaching into the 90s.

The heaviest thunderstorm activity early today was in northwestern Texas and southwestern Oklahoma, but storms rumbled over the northern Plains, the northern Mississippi River valley and the central Atlantic coastal states.

Nine torandoes were sighted Sunday, three each in Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado. There were no reports of injuries.

A flash flood warning was issued today for parts of southern West Virginia. Three inches of rain fell in one hour in Melletee County in South Dakota Sunday night.

Late Saturday and early Sunday, flash flooding claimed the life of one Kentucky person and forced as many as 200 persons to flee their homes in the Pikeville area, where authorities said more than four inches of rain fell in two hours Saturday night. Officials said about $1.5 million damage was done by the heavy rains.

Walkout Brings Prison Break; 1 Slain

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Three inmates escaped from the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility late Sunday while guards protesting state policy picketed the institution.

One of the inmates who escaped was shot to death by sheriff deputies about four miles from the prison. Another was caught underneath a railroad trestle. A third was being sought early today, the Highway Patrol said.

The dead inmate was identified by the Highway Patrol as Edward Nesbitt, 22, of Cleveland. The other two escapees were identified by prison authorities as Michael Patterson, 27, of Hamilton, who was caught and wounded, and Ronald Carter, 26, of Cleveland who was still at large.

A corrections spokesman said it was the first successful escape at the three-year-old institution.

The escape occurred about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, prison Supt. Arnold Jago said. Twenty-one inmates of one cellblock took part in the attempt, he said. Eighteen were captured before getting away from the 1,900 acre prison with 1,519 inmates near the Ohio River.

As the escape took place, guards and other employes at the prison picketed in protest to a new state policy that unions representing employes must have 30 per cent of the workers' endorsement before bargaining will occur.

Workers at Marion Correctional Institution were also off the job, though inside the prison, security was being maintained by supervisors and other employes.

Five unions now represent the prison employes: the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes; the Ohio Civil Service Employes Association; Communications Workers of America; the International Brotherhood of Correctional Officers and the Teamsters.

The OCSEA comes closest to the needed number to bargain with the state with just under the 30 per cent representation, the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction said.

Guards and other correction workers remained on the job until the protest with monthly contract extensions since Jan. 25 when their original pact expired. Since that time, a new state administration has taken over and issued a new bargaining policy.

The protest began a week ago at Lucasville and at its height last week spread to Marion with 1,300 inmates where it continues and Chillicothe Correctional Institue where workers have returned to the job.

Prison authorities described the escape this way:

At 9:30 p.m. prisoners sawed their way through bars in a window in an unoccupied cell of the L-complex on the facility's eastside. The inmate who occupied that cell had been hospitalized last week.

The 21 inmates went through the window onto the grass that surrounds the buildings at the facility. Eleven made it over the first 12-foot high fence with double strands of barbed wire and and were moving toward the next 12-foot fence when guards on the towers sighted them.

Three escaped over the second barrier to the outside.

Ten others never made it over the first fence. Two inmates were wounded by rifle fire from guards in the towers.

Nesbitt was found about 2:30 a.m. today in a car parked along Ohio 23 about 4 miles from the institution. As he tried to run from sheriff deputies, he was shot. Patterson ran from the car and was found at 6 a.m. about 1½ miles from the car.

A spokesman for the Communications Workers of America said about 150 pickets were outside the prison when the escape occurred and offered to return to work to help in the search. The spokesman said the offer was rejected. Corrections officials were unavailable for comment.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market sustained another broad loss today in another session given over largely to profit-taking.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 7.98 at 829.63 after a drop of more than 21 points Thursday and Friday. Losers outpaced gainers by better than a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said it appeared the decline was engendered more by technical forces within the market after its rally of the past five months than by any immediate news developments. Trading volume was light.

Alcan Aluminium led to NYSE's most-active list, off ⅞ at 20. A 124,900-share block crossed the tape at 19¾.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index slipped .07 to 87.04.

Sears, Roebuck dropped 1¾ to 67½. The company reported sharply lower earnings for the quarter ended April 30. Chairman Arthur M. Wood said consumer demand had been firming in recent weeks, however.

American Telephone & Telegraph fell 1¼ to 49, three points below the 1975 high of 52 reached last week by the issue.

Decision To Assign Issue I Funds To Circleville Clarified

A letter was received from the Ohio Department of Transportation, Division 6, by Pickaway County Commissioners which clarified the county's decision to assign the remaining $17,000 in Issue One funds to Circleville.

A project in the village of Tarlton, a new bridge over Skeeter Run on Main Street, had been next in line as a county-approved Issue One project.

However, the cost of the bridge was estimated at $60,000 by the state, far more than the money available. Other recommended projects which did not receive state approval because of a lack of funds were a new bridge over the Scioto River on the Commercial Point London Northern Road and a new bridge over Hamilton Run in the village of New Holland.

According to the Department of Transportation, the county's decision to assign the remaining $17,000 to the Nicholas Drive Project in Circleville, which has already been funded, was the most efficient use of the money.

Commissioners can only make recommendations to the state on Issue One funds and assign priorities. The final decision on what projects will be funded is up to the Ohio Department of Transportation. The state recognized as early as May, 1972 that funds available in the county would be insufficient to finance construction of the bridge over Skeet Run in Tarlton.

Village officials there have been critical of the commissioners decision to give the remaining Issue One funds to Circleville.

Had the money been assigned to Tarlton and if the state had approved the project, the village would have had to come up with the funds to pay engineering costs, right of way acquisition and also would have had to pay the difference between the $17,000 and the final construction cost, approximately $43,000, commissioners Dick T. Tootle, Donald Strous and L. Robert Liston explained.

County Engineer Henry McCrady was authorized to replace by forced account a bridge over Plum Run on the Tarlton Adelphi Road in Saltcreek Twp. and a culvert over a ditch on Wheeler Road in Madison Twp.

Painter Chet Hill was awarded a contract to paint the interior of the Boys Group Home and the interior of Memorial Hall.

Blimp Use To Fight Crime Works, But Cost Big Factor

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—When the city of Tempe, Ariz., banned use of police helicopters because they were too noisy the police department experimented with a blimp.

Both the city's police chief and an official of the Goodyear Aerospace Corp. now say the six-month experiment, conducted in 1973 showed such an aircraft could prove useful for crime prevention.

Tempe's police chief Arthur F. Fairbanks said use of Goodyear's blimp proved that the blimp is safe, costs less to operate than helicopters and can cruise at low speeds.

Fred R. Nebiker, marketing manager of Goodyear Aerospace Corp., which conducted the study with the city, said, "Not only could the officers detect crimes in progress..they could direct intercept units for quick apprehension of fleeing suspects."

A puncture would not immediately deflate the blimp, Nebiker said, because it would be filled with a low pressure gas which would leak out slowly.

Fairbanks said Tempe's application for funds to buy a blimp was denied by the U.S. Justice Department probably because such a blimp is expensive. Nebiker said the blimp—which would be shorter than the regular Goodyear blimp—would cost $1,746,000 to develop, test and gain government certification. He added that additional airships could then be mass produced at $519,000 each.

"We still consider this a viable concept," Fairbanks said. "But the money seems to be the big problem."

Nebiker said the blimp could be used whenever there is good aviation weather.

Deputies Apprehend 3 Walkaways

Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities apprehended three juveniles who had walked away from Central Ohio Youth Commission Institutions.

Deputy James Leaker apprehended the first juvenile 3:26 p.m. Sunday on Route 22 west of Circleville.

The youth, when questioned by Deputy Leaker, gave a false name, age and residence and carried no identification.

Leaker transported the boy to the department and through interrogation found him to be an escapee from OYC.

The youth, committed to OYC for homicide, was held for pick-up by Authorities.

Two walk-aways from the Buckeye Boys Ranch were apprehended by Deputy James Fite, 4:50 a.m. today.

Advised by a citizens band motorist, Fite observed the two boys walking south along Route 23. While turning around in the median strip and proceeding south to talk to the boys, the two ran from the deputy.

Fite continued on routine patrol and was able to apprehend the two at the Certified Station on Route 23.

The youths were incarcerated until pickup today by Authorities.

Portuguese Military Bares 'Fascist Cells'

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal's leftist military rulers announced today they have uncovered a "vast fascist organization" with foreign links and cells in the Portuguese armed forces.

The announcement came the day after an angry crowd of leftist demonstrators besieged the U.S. Embassy for several hours. The demonstrators roughed up an American security officer and daubed the building with red swastikas and the slogan "Death to the CIA."

There were also reports that the radical military leftists who have the upper hand in the government were planning to complete the purge of moderates from positions of authority.

A communique from the army's 5th Psychological Warfare Division said the fascist organization was implicated in the unsuccessful March 11 rightist counter-coup by supporters of ex-President Antonio de Spinola and was linked with "certain foreign agencies and small cells in some military units."

It called on the armed forces and the populace to be on guard against counter-revolutionary attempts and warned that "the common enemy is capitalism in all its forms."

A military spokesman confirmed that a number of "fascists" were being held prisoner in the headquarters of the 1st Light Artillery Regiment, a unit dominated by extreme leftists whose barracks was attacked by an air force plane during the March coup attempt.

Informed sources said the chief target of the leftist radicals is the military president, Gen. Francisco da osta Gomes. According to one version circulating in Lisbon, the radicals are trying to erase the results of the April 25 constitutional assembly elections in which two moderate parties, the Socialists and the Popular Democrats, won about two-thirds of the vote.

Deputy Cites Logan Man In Accident

A 24-year-old Logan man was cited for driving while left of center when he lost control of his car in a single-car accident, 9:40 p.m. Saturday.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman, Martin R. Sharrett, 24, Logan, was eastbound on Route 56 when he failed to negotiate a curve and traveled left of center.

The auto went off the left side of the roadway and struck a telephone pole. Impact of the collision caused the auto to come to rest back on the roadway.

A passenger, Pearl F. Summers, 39, 382 Meadow Ave., was treated for contusions to the thigh.

A tire blow-out was the cause of a single-car accident, 10:48 p.m. Saturday on State Route 316.

David R. Siders, 22, Columbus, was eastbound on State Route 316 completing a curve when the left rear tire blew out. The tire caused the auto to veer off the roadway and strike a fence and cement gate post.

A passenger, Paul T. Rutter Jr., 15, Columbus, received minor injuries.

Deputy Dan Dewey investigated the accident.

Alaska Votes Tax Break For Sohio

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Alaska Senate voted Sunday to allow the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio to buy a share of the state's royalties with its payments under a proposed tax on oil and gas reserves at Prudhoe Bay.

The move came as the legislature was about to turn over to a Free Conference Committee the whole question of imposing a property tax on the Prudhoe Bay reserves to keep the state treasury out of a deficit.

As owner of 53 per cent of the oil and 31 per cent of the natural gas at Prudhoe Bay, Sohio would carry the biggest burden of a tax which could raise about $250 million a year before the trans-Alaska pipeline goes into production. Company officials have warned the legislature that the 20-mill levy could eat heavily into their profits next year and endanger Sohio's credit rating.

The royalty-purchase amendment was expected to hit substantial reserves tax that includes a credit for the industry against future severance taxes.

The difference between the two credit arrangements, legislators and other officials said, was largely a matter of bookkeeping, although Sen. Genie Chance, D-Anchorage, argued there was a "skunk in the cabbage patch."

Aides to Gov. Jay Hammond and the legislature's top oil consultants, Water Levy and Associates of New York, told the Senate Finance Committee that the state had nothing to lose by allowing Sohio and other companies to pay the tax as an advance against royalties.

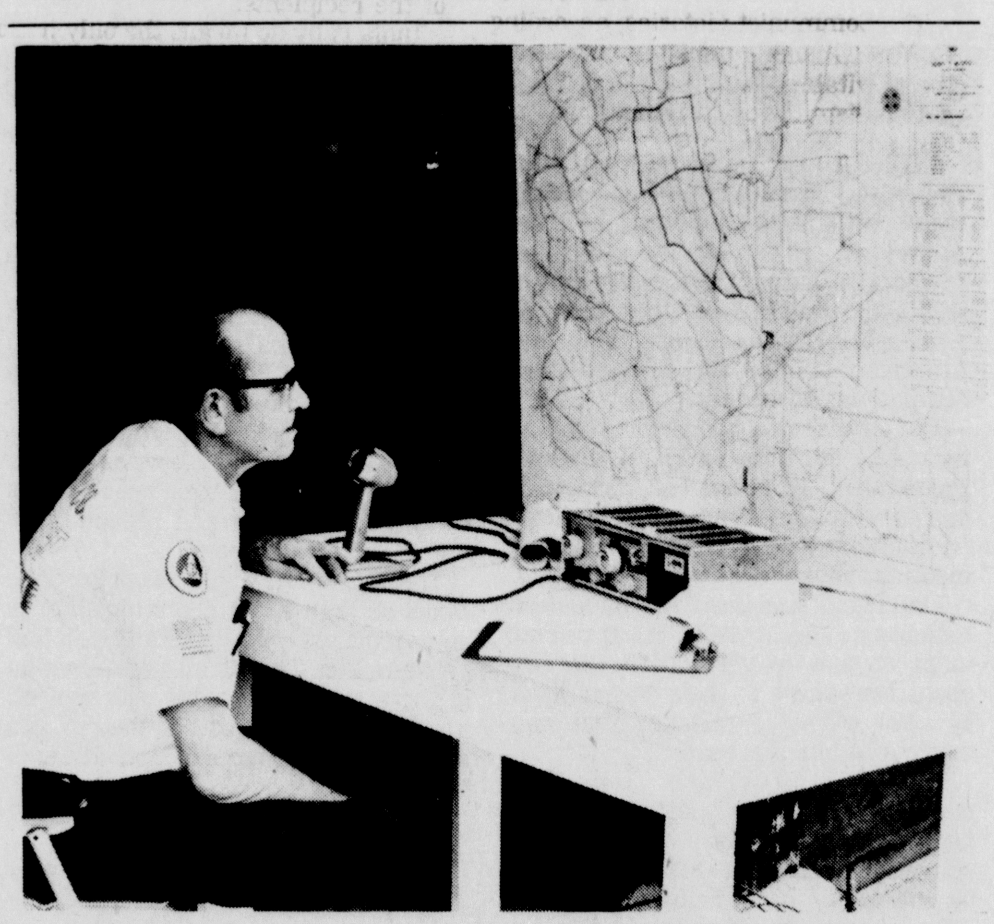
Mick Jagger Cut By Window Glass

NEW YORK (AP) — Mick Jagger says a gash in his right hand and wrist that took 20 stitches is "a bit messy, but I won't need a cast or anything."

The Rolling Stones rock star was sewn up at a Southampton hospital Saturday night after putting his hand through a window at Gosman's, a restaurant in Montauk. Then he was sent home.

"I was leaving the restaurant. I had my left hand on the door handle and my right hand on the window for support. The window just gave way," Jagger told newsmen in Southampton.



COMMAND POST—Members of the Pickaway County React unit manned check points and monitored the route of riders in Saturday's Cancer Bike-A-Thon. The command post was established at the main shelter house in Ted Lewis Park to observe the position of the riders.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

The case for America's foreign aid program has never been made to my satisfaction, and the recent anti-American verbal blast from a top official in the Government of India merely demonstrates further the failure of this program.

As the Communists were overrunning Cambodia and South Vietnam, Indian Foreign Minister Y. B. Chavan stated that the American reverses in those countries were a "gratifying vindication" of India's foreign policy.

The Communist victories, according to Mrs. Ghandi's minister "represent the inevitable victory of the forces of nationalism over attempts to undermine such forces through outside intervention, and constitute a gratifying vindication of the consistent policy maintained by India on the question over the years."

He characterized the fall of Cambodia and Vietnam as the culmination of a "heroic struggle" waged by the people in Indochina to assert their independence and sovereignty.

Without this outside intervention—meaning the United States—the two Asian nations could shape their own destiny, according to Chavan.

It would be difficult to determine whether the Indian Foreign Minister spoke out of gullibility or stupidity—or a combination of both.

On their merits, his remarks were aimed in the wrong direction. Labeling as "outside intervention" our sacrifices in lives, arms, and money to help preserve freedom in Southeast Asia is bad enough. Ignoring the decisive role played by the Soviet Union and Red China in building and maintaining the war machines of the North Vietnamese, Viet Cong, and Khmer Rouge is absolutely unforgiveable.

It seems incredible that India, a beggar nation of the first order, would have so little sympathy for her chief benefactor, the United States. Since 1951, we have given India about $8 billion in aid.

Yet, after 28 years of independence, India is still a nation of disease, poverty, and despair. That does not speak well for those who lead this nation—and who time and again criticize America.

A substantial part of the $12 billion spent on the "Food for Peace" program has gone to India, although her government has actually reduced the agricultural portion of its national budget.

Despite her staggering domestic problems, India last year spent $173 million to test-fire her first atomic explosion. The Ghandi Government expects to spend billions more on nuclear development in the next four years. Even now, she is preparing to detonate another nuclear device.

Since she broke from Britain after World War II, India has looked to the United States for substantial assistance. She has found us to be more than generous in providing her with billions of dollars and tons of grain.

However, our generosity has not won us India's respect. Our State Department still believes that the United States can buy friendship abroad—and I regret that a majority in Congress continue to support foreign give-away programs which net us little more than the ingratitude and frequent hostility of the recipients.

India is by no means the only nation to have taken American dollars and repaid us with criticism and accusations, not to mention refusal to help us in emergency situations.

We found ourselves virtually going it alone in Vietnam and Korea. Our partners in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization provided little or no help.

However, it is one thing to default on one's obligations to an ally—even one as generous as the United States—and quite another thing to practically cheer that ally's setback.

The intemperate remarks of the Indian minister represent a new low in U.S.-India relations. With friends like India, who needs enemies!

Ford Visit To Spain Clouded

MADRID, Spain (AP) — President Ford's visit to Spain later this month is causing concern among liberals here who fear the occasion could slow the transition of power from Gen. Francisco Franco.

They claim the visit will give a stamp of approval to a regime which is considered outmoded by most of the rest of Europe and which they view as a stumbling block in establishing democracy here.

"We are angry and surprised that the Americans apparently have learned nothing from Vietnam, Greece and Portugal," says a socialist organizer. "How can we interpret Ford's visit as anything but a sign the United States is continuing to support rightist governments, and above all, a dying dictatorship."

A liberal executive says he sees Ford's trip as unnecessary interference in negotiations regarding continued American use of Spanish military bases. The present agreement expires in September. Five months of talks in Madrid and Washington have yielded no publicly-acknowledged progress so far.

Diplomatic sources report a surprising number of similar opinions from other Spanish moderates.

Officially, the Spanish government has welcomed the visit by Ford on May 31 immediately after the NATO summit meeting in Brussels.

The Spanish press generally has viewed a meeting between Franco and Ford as another sign of Spain's increased importance in the defense of the western Mediterranean after NATO difficulties with Portugal and Greece. The latter has withdrawn from NATO's military wing.

Although not a NATO member, the Spanish government reportedly is seeking some sign of closer association with the North Atlantic alliance and acceptance, which presumably could be sanctified by Ford's visit, from NATO members who have always barred Spain's entry because of the Franco regime.

U.S. officials insist Ford will not sign an agreement on the bases during his scheduled 24-hour stay in the Spanish capital. A senior Spanish official agrees.

A Western diplomat privately terms Ford's visit "rather tricky business from both the U.S. and Spanish points of view," and a corporation lawyer says he thinks the U.S. President's visit is ill-timed "because it gives support to the Franco regime when we are trying to liberalize."

But Spanish officials point out one of the people with whom Ford is expected to have key conversations is Premier Carlos Arias Navarro, chief promotor of the country's liberalization campaign.

Ford, a monarchist adds, will also meet with Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, the 37-year-old prince designated by Franco to succeed him as chief of state and Spain's first king since 1931.

"Ford will be seeing Spain's future, perhaps its very near future," the politician says.

Unsafe Track Conditions

Discussing the present sad state of many of the major railroads in the United States is a little like agonizing over Vietnam. There is plenty of blame for past practices to go around, but assessing it does nothing to build anew.

If major railroads like the bankrupt Penn Central are ever going to regain public confidence and patronage, they are going to have to find a way of rebuilding from the ground up — literally. Track conditions of some of the lines, including Penn Central, are deplorable.

Paul H. Reistrup, president of Amtrak, has called worn rails the worst problem his agency has in its efforts to rebuild passenger rail service. More than a third of the track used by Amtrak trains belongs to Penn Central.

Train accidents attributed to faulty rails are on the increase. Numerous miles of track must be traveled at very slow speeds because of their deteriorated condition. Some sections of track have been closed down altogether until repairs are made.

Unlike highways, which are constructed and maintained by funds accumulated through user taxes„track maintenance is part of railroad operating expense. That it has been given a low priority in the past is painfully obvious.

The Friendly Season

By JIM BISHOP

Spring . . .

The music of a mountain brook roller-coasting over round rocks. A maple tree, yawning after a long sleep, politely tapping its mouth with new leaves. A lacy yellow fountain of forsythia. Boys knuckling down to shoot a marble, an edge of tongue clenched between their teeth.

Mountains with old ermine on their shoulders. A yellow-eyed cat, dozing on a sunlit windowsill. Gusty winds and cold rain scrubbing winter grime from the big cities. The smell of blue woodsmoke and bacon on a farm.

The thunder of green waves crashing exhausted on a beach. Whining silver butterflies pinned against an empty blue sky. Grey squirrels on the White House lawn seeking fresh acorns to balance their budget. Children walking slowly to school with runny noses.

Galoshes sagging in the front hall closet. A fresh blade of grass, raising its head to the breeze, not knowing that it cannot run from the whirling blades of the mower. Lovers holding hands in silence, speaking the most eloquent of language.

The lonely sound of a train whistle late at night, the note falling from G natural to F sharp as it passes. Young girls with rhinestone sandals on the bed, painting 10 toenails fire engine red. Young men hiding behind 10 pounds of books as they cram for finals.

A flat blue lake wearing a small yoke of ice, admiring itself in the sky. Weekend sailors slapping red lead on hulls, chipping crust from the brass. The last of autumn's galleons, crisp rusty leaves, sailing down a gutter to the sewer. A lighthouse, winking and flirting with distant stars.

Mother's annual rummage sale to her children. Glassine baby crabs skittering down the beach to the water for the first time. The annual cleaning out of bureau drawers, a task which ends with everything going back in the drawer.

Mom in the kitchen cleaning the precious jewels and rings with ammonia and love. Dad, inside the garage, cleaning his precious jewels — nine irons and four woods — with a dirty cloth and love. Junior, oiling and spinning the wheels of his bike.

Spring is nature's true dawn; it is birth and rebirth; it is sudden warmth and billions of small pale green leaves. It is the feel of sun on the cheeks; a time when father promises that soon he will get up on a ladder and take down the storm windows.

The oil burner lapses into long silences. Radiators in old flats stop knocking each other. Some trees stroke themselves sensuously with pussy willow. The old black oaks will not awaken until they are damned good and ready.

The highways at night are the bright hot lava of our culture. In late afternoon, refrigerator lights reflect eager hungry faces. A robin stakes out a branch of a tree as his home and signs the lease with shrill warnings to other males.

Spring is a handful of velvet pansies shivering. It's a cold bottle of beer perspiring. A still lake fractured by the leap of a trout. It's a heat mirage at the far edge of a long road.

It's an old man suddenly rubbing his cheek against his wife's. An orange moon peeking over rooftops. A dog in the woods sniffing and wagging his tail. At noon, it's people lying on grass in public parks.

It's an infant in a perambulator dressed too warm. The first glass of iced tea. A cold cereal with milk and sugar. Bells to be ignored—an alert alarm clock; an early phone call. Fresh makeup—a coat of paint on an old house.

A bowl of oranges on a dining room table. Tired TV reruns. Baby ducks following mother in line. Sea birds with 40 per cent flaps standing still in air. The first scent of night jasmine.

Mountains weeping snowy tears to swell streams in the valleys. Recognition of a favorite love song. Teenagers taller than their parents. A promise to change the snow tires. Days when men and women dream at foliage they do not see.

It's the friendly season. The promise of rebirth to all people and all things.

Spring . . .

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on the May 12th Edition of The Herald where Cuba's Fidel Castro has raised the possibility of "Improved relations with the United States" following discussions with Senator George McGovern (D) South Dakota. That my friend is a profound statement that makes me want to quickly grab up my moth-eaten wallet and run straight for the nearest "poor house." As though that weren't bad enough, Secretary of State, Kissinger, states in the very same article that he has the impression there is a general understanding of where we (the Government) want to go on the "Cuba Issue." I would like to volunteer my suggestion as to where the Government should go on the issue, but I have long sinced refrained from violence and obscenities.

Castro has embraced communism (USSR brand) for approximately 16 years against the wishes of the general populace of Cuba, and even his own sister. So what could he possibly want from us since he detests the, "American Capitalist Warmongers"?

He wants capitalist medicine and capitalist food and he further wants to capitalize on our attitude of being the, "Saviours of the World." I will give my suggestion in polite form not only to Castro, but to our Government leaders also. Have Castro make a deal with South Vietnam's now defunct leaders who already have most of our money (and blood). Henry Kissinger can negotiate the deal and should become nervous and run out of Diplomatic adjectives.

Washington could send George McGovern along to hold his hand. This is one tax-payer who is more than disgusted with not being able to adequately care for my family because of our great nations "give-away programs"! What we really need to do is cut all Congressional salaries by a mere 25 per cent to help Cuba and the Vietnam refugees. The factories would not be able to handle all the orders for "Crying towels."

Respectfully,

Flying Away With Car Keys

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A Continental Airlines flight was about to leave El Paso recently when the captain's voice came over the cabin's public address system.

He asked if a certain woman was aboard. If so would she "pass her husband's keys to the car up to the cockpit and we'll throw them out the window so her husband can go home."

The lady dug through her purse, found the keys and gave them to a stewardess. She took them to the cockpit area and, presumably, they were thrown to the tarmac for the lady's spouse.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

One of my friends was given thyroid pills by her doctor to help her lose weight. She wants me to try her pills. I'm overweight and tempted. Is it safe to try it?

Mrs. J.S., Pa.

Dear Mrs. S.:

My reaction to your request is an emphatic "NO." The trading of any kind of drugs is fraught with potential hazard. Certainly, a hormone such as a thyroid pill, taken without prescription, is particularly hazardous.

I doubt that your friend's doctor prescribed thyroid tablets purely to control her weight. The hormone manufactured by the thyroid gland is very complex — reaching all the other hormones in the body.

Consequently, the indiscriminate use of thyroid tablets may upset the delicate balance that controls the proper functioning of all the other organs in the body.

There are some instances in which the underactivity of the thyroid gland is responsible for excessive weight gain. If after a complete study of the thyroid gland a deficiency is found, then and only then is a thyroid prescription used.

Two of our neighbors died of cancer. I must confess that I live in constant fear that I have caught this disease from one of them who was my close and intimate friend.

Mrs. T.M., Ohio

Dear Mrs. M.:

Let me assure you and reassure you that cancers are not contagious. Once you have accepted this you will find that your unnecessary anxiety will be relieved.

Unfortunately, there is another aspect to your question that may not be as readily answered. The fear of cancer is definitely contagious. This fear can spread from person to person and do serious harm to the emotional stability of those who are easily susceptible to all fears.

There are many people like yourself who live in terror of acquiring diseases that may never afflict them. Because of this, they go through life missing many of the joys of day-to-day living. Their uncontrolled anxiety about cancer and other diseases disturbs their inner peace and deprives them of productivity and tranquility.

Let me repeat. Cancer is not catching. But the unfounded fear of acquiring it is highly contagious.

Judge Rules Draft Unconstitutional

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A military draft, if there is to be one, must apply equally to both men and women, a federal judge has ruled.

"I personally am an admirer of femininity, but the law does not permit us governmentally to protect women paternalistically so as to relieve them from the duties, obligations and privileges of citizenship," U.S. District Court Judge W.D. Murray said Friday.

In Washington, Peter Straub, general counsel of the Selective Service System, said the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld on three occasions lower court rulings that draft laws are not sexually discriminatory.

"I'm sure the Department of Justice will appeal," Straub said.

"Legislation limiting the draft to male citizens denies them the equal protection of the law," Murray said in his ruling. "All citizens, male and female, must be subject to the draft on an equal basis."

Murray said the military draft, as it is administered now, is unconstitutional on grounds it is sexually discriminatory.

The judge rejected the government's argument that sexual classification in draft laws is based on national security. "We have had too much recent experience to allow the mere claim of national security to stand without challenge," the judge said.

The judge said "there simply is no basis for concluding that all or even a significant number of women are incapable of serving in the military. This is true even assuming they would be placed in combat roles."

The ruling was issued in a case involving George Kenneth Reiser, 22, of Bozeman, Mont., who was indicted by a grand jury Nov. 30, 1973, for refusing induction into the armed forces.

Resier was denied conscientious objector status in 1972. He was ordered to report for induction but refused, said James Goetz, Reiser's attorney.

Although actual conscription has ended, Goetz said the Selective Service System continues to register 18-year-olds for military duty and still conducts lotteries.

The government has emergency standby power whereby those registered for the draft can be called into active duty, he noted.

Ecumenical 'First' At Wilmington

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Wilmington church leaders Sunday held what they termed "an ecumenical first" when 200-300 persons "from every conceivable denomination" participated in combined services marking pentecost.

The Rev. E. James Dickey said the clergy of this city of 10,000 organized the multidenominational gathering to call attention to the worldwide need "for a new spirit of unity."

"To our knowledge nothing of this ecumenical nature has been held in our time," said Mr. Dickey, who is pastor of the United Methodist Church. He said the event will hopefully be "the wave of the future."

The services were held on the Clinton County Courthouse lawn, after separate services at each church. Members of six Wilmington churches participated, while three other churches approved the services, but were unable to take part due to conflicts.

The Rev. Dickey said the event was held to celebrate pentecost-the birth of the church-which "brought all Christians together and formed the church." He said Sunday's participants ranged from "the most liberal churches to the very conservative."

Calling it a "pilot project," Mr. Dickey said the services were staged outdoors to portray the tradition according to the second chapter of Acts.

"We met to confess the divisiveness in our midst and seek a new spirit of unity," said Mr. Dickey.

The services were concluded with all clergy joining hands on the courthouse steps and singing "They will know we are Christians by our love."

White-Westinghouse To Lay Off Workers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The White-Westinghouse plant here said Saturday it would lay off 600 employes within the week.

The announced layoffs will bring the plant's work force down to 1,900, compared to 3,800 last year.

Company officials cited a slump in the sales of major appliances manufactured at the plant as the reason for the layoffs.

Ohio Senate Report

By OAKLEY C. COLLINS
17th District Senator

The Legislature was busier this week than at any time since the first week of this session. Two of the most important pieces of legislation to come before the 111th General Assembly passed - the biennial budget in the House and the new state aid to education formula in the Senate. Unfortunately, certain features of both bills and the way in which they were passed are reminiscent of the so-called "six day war" last January.

Totally disregarding the Governor's budgetary recommendations, majority Democrats in the House wrote their 1975-77 budget behind closed doors. Minority Republicans were virtually excluded from participation in preparing the budget.

When the budget came to the House floor, 8 of the 12 Republican amendments were tabled, one was ruled out of order and three passed. Most of these were to balance the budget and to restore funding for essential human services such as mental health and retardation and education. All Democrat amendments passed, while those made by members of the minority were summarily tabled, a parliamentary maneuver which precludes debate and prevents a recorded vote on the merits of the question.

This budget bill comes to approximately $10.6 billion for the next two years. However, it does not include funds for the Ohio Department of Transportation and certain capital improvements. Supposedly they will be provided for in future legislation, bringing the total to substantially over $12 billion.

There are many serious problems with this bill in its present form, and I hope that changes will be made in the Senate or through line item veto by the Governor. The Governor could also possibly veto the entire bill, sending it back to the House for further consideration.

The greatest problem with this budget is that it is out of balance. Mandated expenditures exceed anticipated revenues by about $140 million. In addition, it counts on a carry-over of several million dollars from current surpluses, but the latest tax collection figures indicate that the state revenues are already $21 million short of appropriated funds for this biennium.

State law prohibits deficit spending. so when revenues run short necessary state services will have to be drastically curtailed. In this event, education would be one of the hardest hit areas. Extremely serious problems will arise if school boards are unable to meet negotiated salary levels.

Mental health and retardation, also hard hit by the Democrat budget, receive only a 5 per cent increase from $380 million to $400 million. Because of inflation this amounts to a decrease in real dollars, despite the fact that the Director of Mental Health and Retardation has labeled Ohio's care for those in state institutions totally inadequate. A Republican amendment to boost funding for mental health and retardation was tabled along partisan lines.

Such cuts in basic humane services exist in comparison to a 31.9 per cent increase for the House and a whopping 49.4 per cent increase for the Senate. The Civil Rights Commission gets only a 7.9 per cent increase. The Environmental Protection Agency gets a 2.7 per cent increase. The Department of Corrections has only a 12.5 per cent increase, while inmate population has increased nearly 26 per cent since 1972. It is inexcusable for the Legislature to so dramatically increase its own funding while necessary state functions are cut back in terms of real dollars.

Action in the Senate on the new equal yield formula for primary and secondary education paralleled the shoddy budget performance in the House.

After two years of work, a bipartisan Education Review Committee recommended a new formula for distribution of state money for education, but its original intent to equalize total funds available for schools was completely distorted by the time the bill reached the floor of the Senate.

The bill still contains the very important equalization concept, and may be cleaned up in the House or in conference committee, but several provisions not recommended by the Education Review Committee put the bill's value in present form.

The bill disallows by 1977 the current practice of rolling back millage rate when real property is revalued. Thus, while inflation drives up property valuation for tax purposes, millage would remain constant, resulting in skyrocketing taxes. Taxpayers simply cannot stand such a burden.

In its present form the bill splits up school districts that have more than $100,000 of tax valuation from public utilities. However, districts which have an equal aggregate valuation from several sources would remain intact. Such a provision is discriminatory. Hopefully, this important bill will be restored to its original intent by the House.

The legislative process in the Senate was as poor as that in the House. A motion to table has been offered in the Senate less than 5 times in the past decade, but majority Democrats gagged minority Republicans by tabling 11 amendments. One Republican amendment was defeated and six Democrat amendments passed. Such practices similar to those in the "six day war" coupled with extremely poor legislation made this a very poor week for the reputation of the Legislature and the best interests of the people of Ohio.

Social Services Funds Available

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Under a new law known as Title XX, Ohio's working poor would be eligible for services partially paid for with federal money that once was earmarked solely for welfare.

An Ohio family of four with an annual income between $11,417 and $16,412, or 80 to 115 per cent of the state's median yearly income, would be eligible to buy federally subsidized social services.

Possible services available would range from day care centers for children to counseling and training programs for adults. Families would pay for services on a sliding scale based on ability to pay.

Mildred Madry, social services director of the Ohio Department of Welfare, said it will be up to state government to decide if it will take up its option on Title XX.

Title XX replaces Title IV-A in regulating how states may spend federal money for social services.

Under Title IV-A, 90 per cent of federal money had to go for services for welfare recipients and 10 per cent for services for past or potential recipients.

Title XX requires states to maintain programs for welfare recipients at the 1973 or 1974 level, whichever is higher, but permits additional federal funds to be used for the working poor. The new law gives the state more flexibility in the use of federal funds, said Robert Canary, assistant state welfare director.

Ohio is entitled to about $127 million in federal funds, Mrs. Madry said. Since Ohio did not use all of its share of the $2.5 billion allotted to the states by the federal government for social services last year, it will be able to maintain welfare programs and still have money for the working poor.

The snafu in what otherwise sounds like a good program is that federal dollars must be matched by local money — either state or county funds, said Canary.

Canary said the welfare department expected some money for Title XX in the next budget, but "by no means the amount of money needed to match all the federal dollars."

Canary said the department was waiting for the final Title XX regulations on the use of donated funds, before abandoning the possibility of also using donations from private organizations.

Meanwhile, the state must prepare a plan for using the federal funds by July 1 so public and social service organizations can comment and ask for changes before its effective date of October 1.

Canary said he is expecting some controversy and a wide range of suggestions on how the funds can be used.

Services offered for the working poor "would be done presumably with the idea of trying to help people avoid needing welfare services,"

If you have three or four ice-cube pans in your refrigerator-freezer, make sure you rotate their use. Ice cubes can get stale and acquire an off-taste. Use cold water when you are refilling ice-cube trays.

If you are buying plastic containers for your freezer, look for ones that may be placed in boiling water so that frozen food can be removed easily without first thawing.

Red Cross Adopts CPR Techniques

As part of an expanded nationwide effort to give life-support care to heart attack victims, the American Red Cross is introducing cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training.

The Red Cross instructional program is intended to first train policemen, firemen, rescue squad members, families of cardiac patients and other specific-need groups, according to John Stebelton and Lowell Ferguson, First Aid chairmen of the Pickaway County Red Cross chapter.

The CPR technique, used to restore and sustain respiration and circulation, consists of rhythmic pressure on the victim's chest above the heart, alternated with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Ferguson and Stebelton said a "specific recommendation that CPR training programs be expanded into the broader spectrum of emergency cardiac care as an integral part of a total community comprehensive system of emergency medical services" grew out of a conference sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council and the American Heart Association.

The American Red Cross was asked to play a key role in extending basic life-support CPR training to the general public.

More than 660,000 deaths occur annually from heart attack. In addition, thousands of persons die when breathing and-or circulation have stopped as a result of accidents - automobile, drowning, electrical shock or drug overdose. Immediate, correct emergency first aid care at the scene could save as many as 100,000 lives a year, according to Advanced Coronary Treatment Foundation (ACT).

Artificial respiration has been one of the principal life-saving procedures taught by the Red Cross since the first aid program began in 1910. The mouth-to-mouth resuscitation method, adopted by the Red Cross in 1957, is the most effective of these resuscitation procedures when the victim's breathing has stopped, but whose blood circulation usually continues for a few minutes longer.

However, the futility of ventilating the lungs in this manner in cases where heart action has stopped and the oxygenated blood is not being carried to the brain has been recognized for mnay years.

By employing the techiques of closed chest pressure combined with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, it is possible in many cases to stimulate both blood circulation and breathing, and revive the victim until medical help can be reached.

For information concerning Red Cross courses on CPR, interested persons may contact the local chapter at 474-5736.

The Circleville Band Boosters will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school band room.

The meeting will include a wrap-up of the year's activities and election of officers for 1975-76.

Baby Struck By Hit-Run Car Saturday

A 17-month-old baby was struck by a hit and run driver 10:40 p.m. Saturday on W. Main St., according to Circleville Police.

Linda Hutchinson, mother of young Darrell Hutchinson, told police that she parked her car in front of their house just before the accident.

She apparently thought the youth was standing beside her.

The youngster was given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and then treated at Children's Hospital, Columbus for a contusion of the right skull, and released.

Money Taken By Thieves

Thieves entered the Grace M. Riggs residence in South Bloomfield sometime between 10 a.m. Friday and 2:30 a.m. Saturday, taking various amounts of money.

After entering the dwelling, located on the corner of Nelson Drive and Ashville Road, the thieves went to the bedroom where they took two packs of quarters and three packs of silver dimes from a purse which was in a closet.

The culprits then went to a dresser where they removed five rolls of nickels. Two rolls of quarters, four rolls of dimes and $13.50 in other currency was also taken from a small bank.

Other drawers were ransacked, according to Sheriff's Deputy Nick Franklin, but it appeared nothing else was missing.

The money amounted to $91.

3 Theft Reports Investigated

Circleville Police investigated three theft reports last weekend.

John Larimer, 100 Seyfert Ave., told officers that thieves took two 150-watt flood lamps from a monument display at the corner of Seyfert and N. Court St.

The lights are valued at $4.

A Lawn Boy lawnmower was taken from the back yard of the 634 S. Court St. home of Raymond Russell, police said.

The lawnmower is valued at $60.

Thieves used a coat hanger to flip the door lock on a car owned by Robert Harris, Tarlton and took an eight-track tape player and eight country and western tapes.

The car was parked in the Second National Banks lot, police said.

Late Model heat winners were Bill Hayes of South Shore, Ky., and Bob Crace of Chillicothe.

Brent Whited of Richmond, Ind., flipped his sprinter in turn No. 3 on the first lap of the Super Sprint Heat No. 1, heavily damaging his car but he was uninjured. The race was restarted and George Harbour of Applegrove, W. Va., claimed the win. Second heat winner was John Wical of Raymond.

The Atomic Speedway will run regular races, three classes (Super Sprints, Late Models, and Hobby Stocks), Saturday night. Coming up on May 26th, the Memorial Day Championship featuring Super Sprints and Late Models.

Giants Blank Cardinals, 2-0

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

San Francisco's Jim Barr changed from a pitcher to a thrower Sunday and as a result the St. Louis Cardinals went from the sublime to the ridiculous.

There were only two singles left in the St. Louis bats which pounded out 17 runs and 23 hits one day earlier. Both of them belonged to Lou Brock as Barr stopped nibbling for the corners and decided to challenge the Cardinal batters with hard stuff. The result was a 2-0 victory for the Giants.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh's Ken Brett also hurled a two-hitter as the Pirates trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2, the Chicago Cubs nipped the San Diego Padres 3-2, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Atlanta Braves 5-1, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Montreal Expos 6-1 and the Houston Astros outlasted the New York Mets 12-7.

Barr held the Cardinals hitless until Brock ruined his nohit bid by lining a sharp single off the pitcher's glove leading off the seventh. Brock got the other hit when he singled up the middle with two out in the ninth. Barr walked three and struck out six.

Pirates 7, Dodgers 2

Brett not only fired a two-hitter but outhit the Dodgers all by himself with two doubles and a single. Both Los Angeles hits were by Dave Lopes — a leadoff single in the first inning and a homer in the ninth.

Cubs 3, Padres 2

Utility man Adrian Garrett brought the Cubs from behind with a three-run homer in the sixth inning. Rick Monday started the rally with a walk off Dan Spillner, John Summers reached on an error by Spillner and Garrett, making a rare start, followed with his first homer of the season.

Phillies 5, Braves 1

Tom Underwood hurled a four-hitter and singled home a run as the Phillies notched their seventh straight victory. They scored twice in the second inning off Ron Reed on a walk, Bob Boone's single, Mike Anderson's bunt hit and Underwood's single.

An inning later, the Phils doubled the score on a single by Garry Maddox and RBI doubles by Greg Luzinski and Mike Schmidt. Anderson singled home the final run in the eighth.

Reds 6, Expos 1

Gary Nolan pitched a fourhitter and Pete Rose and George Foster homered for Cincinnati. Nolan was touched for a run on Mike Jorgensen's first-inning homer and blanked the Expos the rest of the way.

The Reds scored twice against Dave McNally inthe second on Foster's single, Doug Flynn's run-scoring double, a single by Nolan and Rose's grounder

Astros 12, Mets 7

Bob Watson drove in five runs with a solo homer, a three-run double and a grounder as Houston ended the Mets' five-game winning streak. Jose Cruz and Greg Gross knocked in two runs apiece as the Astros scored nine times in the first three innings.

Reds Take Pair From Montreal Over Weekend

MONTREAL (AP) — Manager Sparky Anderson of the Cincinnati Reds figures his Big Red Machine is back on the track again today.

The Reds disposed of the Montreal Expos 5-3 in 10 innings Saturday and then posted a 6-1 victory against the Expos Sunday.

The Reds had been in the doldrums coming here for a threegame weekend stand and were further depressed when they lost the opener to the Expos Friday night.

"We lost six in a row because we played badly and the other teams did everything right," Anderson said.

"Evry team goes through that and I guess it was just our turn.

"We could have been even with Los Angeles instead of trailing them, but we're behind because of the games we have given away."

The Cincinnati manager said the whole club's attitude in the dugout had changed Sunday and that there was no griping about long balls hit and caught by Montreal outfielders.

"We hit some balls pretty hard today and even when they were caught there was no griping about "lucky catches," he said.

Anderson had held a fullscale meeting with his club Saturday after the Reds dropped a 4-2 decision to the Expos Friday night. Anderson would not comment on what he said to his players, but Pete Rose described it as a "dandy."

The Cincinnati manager had words of praise and sympathy for Gary Nolan, who pitched his third complete game of the season Sunday as he limited the Expos to four hits, using only 84 pitches en route.

"Nolan's record should be 5-2 this year instead of 2-3," Anderson said. "We played badly for him twice, and while he had his stuff in those games, we didn't have it as a team."

Nolan said he had managed to limit the Expos to one run and four hits because he had managed to keep the ball down most of the day.

He gave up only one walk and struck out three.

He said that on Mike Jorgensen's home run in the first inning, he had "good location," on the pitch to the Montreal first baseman, but that Jorgensen had reached a bit and slammed the ball over the fence in right center field.

Montreal left-hander Dave McNally's record dropped to 3-5. Rose and George Foster hit home runs off McNally.

Kent State Winner

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Coach Doug Raymond had to break into Kent State's athletic trophy case recently to retrieve the Mid-American Conference track trophy. Then he sent his thinclads to win it back.

The 1973 MAC titlists nipped defending champion Eastern Michigan 132-130 Saturday to win the 1975 crown.

"I never figured to win this for love or money," said Raymond, in his ninth year as coach of the Golden Flashes.

Andretti Joins Field For 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Senseless scheduling, says Mario Andretti, forces him and other international drivers to choose between the Indianapolis 500 and two other major races the same day.

"Indianapolis is the most important race in the world. It should be respected as such so any graded driver could compete here if he wants to," Andretti said Sunday after qualifications for the May 25 classic ended. Andretti qualified for the field Saturday.

The problem, as Andretti sees it, is the international schedule which pits race against race and dilutes the competition. On the schedule next Sunday will be the U.S. Auto Club-sanctioned 500-mile race here, NASCAR's World 600 for stock cars at Charlotte, N.C., and the Belgian Grand Prix. All are internationally sanctioned.

Because of a conflict with the Monaco Grand Prix, Andretti passed up the first weekend of qualifying here. So he had to settle for whatever was left open for the final weekend. His qualification speed of 186.480 miles per hour — though eighth fastest — put him only in the ninth row.

Other qualifiers Saturday were Steve Krisiloff, driving with a broken heel in a cast, at 182.408 m.p.h.; surprising rookie Larry McCoy at 182.760; Dick Simon at 181.892; Mike Hiss at 181.754, and Rick Muther's 181.726.

On Sunday, Eldon Rasmussen came in at 181.910 m.p.h. and Tom Bigelow joined him at 181.864.

Lee Kunzman was bumped by Andretti. Rasmussen ousted Al Loquasto from the lineup and Bigelow edged out Muther.

Indiana University Wins Golf Title

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University, playing on its home course, Saturday fought off a late charge by Ohio State and won its third straight Big Ten golf title as Hoosier seniors Gary Biddinger and Bob Ackerman tied for medalist honors.

Both Biddinger and Ackerman fired 72-hole totals of 294 and IU sophomore Rob Jackson was next at 295. Jackson also won the Les Bolstad Award given each year to the Big Ten golfer with the lowest season average.

Warriors Top Bullets; Win 101-95

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Rick Barry agrees that Golden State isn't a super team, but the Warriors' high-scoring forward says that doesn't interfere with success.

"We realize we've gotten here through hard work, determination and a lot of guts," Barry said after the Warriors opened the National Basketball Association's championship series with a 101-95 victory over the Washington Bullets.

"But now, we can beat any team if we play the way we're capable of playing."

Sparked by three substitutes, the Warriors rallied from a 16-point third quarter deficit to upset the Bullets Sunday for a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

The next two games will be played Tuesday and Friday nights in San Francisco's Cow Palace, since Golden State's regular home court, the Oakland Coliseum, is tied up with an ice show.

Barry topped the Warriors with 24 points, including a key basket with 38 seconds remaining after Washington pulled to within 97-95. But he credited Phil Smith and Charles Dudley with being the stars of the game.

Area Girl Competes In AAU Track Meet

Diane Wilamowski, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Wilamowski, Route 1, competed in the AAU sanctioned Miami Valley Invitational Track Meet Saturday sponsored by the Kettering Striders at Versailles High School.

She participated in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and the long jump in the semifinals and qualified for the 100-yard finals. She placed eighth in the finals with a time of 13.6.

Diane is in her second year as a member of the Scioto Track Team of Columbus. One of her teammates broke the worlds record for the mile in the 10 to 11 age group with a time of 5:21.0.

Teams from Canada, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio participated in the meet.

Diane attends Pickaway Elementary School.

Master Derby Wins Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — The 100th Preakness "wasn't the best race Master Derby has ever run, but it sure was the biggest purse I've ever won," trainer W.E. "Smiley" Adams said.

"I guess the Louisiana Derby was his best race, but this one wasn't bad ... not bad at all," Adams said.

Held just 1½ to 2 lengths off the lead for the first half mile, Master Derby moved on the pace-setting Native Guest in the turn for home and scored by a length.

"I told my rider (Darrel McHargue) don't get shuffled back. He was a shade closer than I thought he'd be, but I wanted him to have a horse to look at," Adams said Sunday.

"You know, if he gets out in front too soon, he sometimes checks himself and I didn't want that to happen here," he said.

Foolish Pleasure, further back in the early part of Saturday's race, made up some ground in the stretch run, but had to settle for second money.

"I only saw him a time or two during the race because of all those idiots in center field," trainer LeRoy Jolley said. "But I could tell he wasn't handling the race track."

Miami University Wins Tennis Clash

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — No one in the Mid-American Conference could cope with Miami's balance in the league's 29th tennis championships over the weekend at Western Michigan University.

However, Western's Jack Vredevelt was voted Coach of the Year in balloting by fellow coaches. And, a pair of Bronco netmen managed to join the Redmen as individual winners.

Only WMU's Tony Lamerato and Scott Frew could dent the otherwise all-Miami victory circle Saturday in the six singles and three doubles finals.

Rangers Edge Detroit, 7-6

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

Texas outfielder Tom Grieve knows a lucky break when he sees one and he knows what to do about it.

The Rangers had runners on first and second and one out in the 11th inning against Detroit Sunday when Grieve lofted a foul ball down the right field line. Tiger outfielder Leon Roberts drifted over, settled under it, tapped his glove ... and dropped the ball.

"I was cussing and really carrying on a conversation with myself running down to first," said Grieve. "When he dropped it I said to myself 'Okay, you've got a second chance. Don't mess it up.'"

He didn't. Grieve slapped a single into left field, sending Willie Davis home with the winning run to give the Rangers a 7-6 triumph, lifting them to within 1½ games of first-place Oakland in the American League West.

Elsewhere, California dumped Baltimore 5-1, New York rocked Oakland 9-1, Minnesota blanked Milwaukee 6-0, Boston beat Kansas City 4-2 and Cleveland shaded Chicago 7-6.

Angels 5, Orioles 1

Nolan Ryan raised his record to 8-1, allowing just two hits until leaving in favor of Don Kirkwood in the ninth. Lee Stanton belted a three-run double as California broke it open in the eighth against loser Mike Torrez, 5-2. Ryan joins Oakland's Vida Blue as the only eightgame winner in the majors.

Yankees 9, A's 1

Catfish Hunter stopped his former mates on four hits to raise his record to 5-4. It was only the fourth victory in 14 games for New York this month and Hunter has all of them. Thurman Munson drove in two runs with a homer and sacrifice fly for the winners.

Twins 6, Brewers 0

Rookie Jim Hughes upped his string of scorless innings to 19 and lowered his earned run average to 1.31 with a four-hitter. Steve Braun and Larry Hisle, who extended his hitting streak to nine games, hit home runs for the Twins, who got above the .500 mark for the first time since April 12.

Red Sox 4, Royals 2

Bernie Carbo accounted for the Boston scoring with three hits, two of them homers, to drive in four runs. Carbo hit a three-run homer in the third and a solo blast in the fifth. Rick Wise scattered six hits and struck out nine for the victory.

Indians 7, White Sox 6

George Hendrick and Boog Powell belted two-run homers for the Tribe and relievers Tom Buskey and Dave LaRoche cut a Chicago rally short to preserve the Cleveland win.

Indians' Manager Frank Robinson drew a three-game suspension and was fined a reported $250 for an altercation with umpire Jerry Neudecker in Saturday night's game but the suspension and fine were delayed until AL President Lee MacPhail hears Robinson's appeal.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

More On Moochers

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column about people who were always mooching rides, and these moochers were called "schnorrers."

I would like to know where that term came from. We are one of 200 families in the United States with the name of "Schnorr," and we object to the use of our name with such a meaning.

We hope the Schnorr families in Oregon, New Mexico, Illinois and all the other states feel as we do and that you get 199 more letters of protest. Thank you.

THE SCHNORRS OF ARIZONA

DEAR SCHNORRS: The verb "to beg" is "schnorren" in German. From it comes the noun, "schnorrer" which means "a begger, a panhandler, a moocher, a cheapskate, a chisler, a bum, a drifter, or a borrower. It can also mean a compulsive bargain hunter, bargainer or an impudent indigent."

The above information was "schnorred" (borrowed without permission) from "The Joys of Yiddish"-a delightful and authoritive book written by Leo Rosten.

DEAR ABBY: I have also had it with schnorrers who mooch rides. But when an acquaintance calls and asks if I'm going to a certain affair and I say I am, she immediately asks, "May I ride with you?" Then what do I say?

My greatest objection to these freeloaders is the loss of my personal freedom of movement. I can neither arrive nor leave an event at my own convenience. And I can't chose the route I will take. Even though I may be downtown shopping, I must leave for home because one habitual rider lives near me.

I must also wait until the end of the affair, or until my riders have finished visiting with their friends. There is not a chance of leaving a few minutes early to stop at the market or do a few errands because I must deliver my riders to their homes promptly.

My car is a two-door. One hefty freeloader who had trouble getting into my back seat said, "When you get a new car, will you please get a four-door?"

I wish I had had the nerve to say, "Like fun I will. My next car will be a two-seater!"

WHAT TO DO?

DEAR WHAT: Some people actually enjoy providing others with rides, but since you obviously consider it an imposition when you're asked simply say "I may not be leaving from home." (True, you may not.) Or, "I may not be going directly home afterward." (Also true.)

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a Mama's boy. Mama lives 1,500 miles away, but she writes to Sonny regularly three times a week. And Sonny calls her every Sunday. (He even asks her how he should vote.)

He is 64 and Mama is 79. I know she can't last forever, but what happens to a Mama's boy when Mama is no longer around to tell him what to do?

SICK OF BOTH OF THEM

DEAR SICK: If he's still a Mama's boy at 64, he missed the last boat to manhood, so he'll probably look for another "Mama." And think you're her.

Nessen Raps Muckrakers

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Investigative reporters motivated to write stories out of cynicism, distrust and only the suspicion of scandal often perform a disservice, Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Sunday.

Nessen said muckracking stories perform a service only when they are backed by facts. But, he added, some reporters are obsessed to "always look for a scandal, mistakes, wrongdoing in every official, in every event or to raise the suspicion of scandals."

Nessen spoke at the 122nd commencement of Heidelberg College which awarded him a honorary doctors of laws degree.

The press secretary said responsible investigative articles are heeded in government circles, but when the reports are based on suspected scandal they lead to distrust both of public officials and of the media.

Inquest Scheduled In Ohioan's Death

WICKENBURT, Ariz. (AP) — A coroner's inquest will be held here Tuesday into the death of an Ohio man who was found asphyxiated in his car, authorities said.

Sgt. Leonard A. Jones, 26, of Orrville, Ohio, was found in the front seat of his car along U.S. 60 Friday morning northwest of here, Maricopa County sheriff's deputies said.

Man's Best Friend The Spider?

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — In spite of the rather natural aversion most people feel for spiders, they really have a pretty good batting average for being helpful, an Ohio University zoologist says.

Of the 400 found in Ohio, only two can be classified as dangerous, and the remainder are downright beneficial, says Jerome Rovner, an Ohio University zoologist. Even the feared tarantula, not found in Ohio, is "very tame and docile."

'Spiders eat only insects and are one of the best natural pest controls in a garden or even in the home," he said. "They help maintain a balance of nature if they're left alone to control insects that might otherwise eat plants."

Even if a spider is found in the home, Rovner said, it should not be killed.

"If it's in the basement and not in the way, leave it," he advised. "If it's able to survive, that means it's eating insects. A spider that can't find anything to eat will die."

If you find a spider in your living room, try to catch it in a jar and throw it outside, he says.

Rovner is particularly upset about the use of general pesticides.

Not only are harmful insects killed, but so are the spiders, their natural enemies, he said. "Flies and mosquitos go through an entir generation in several weeks, but spiders require much longer."

Rovner stresses that there is little reason to fear most spiders.

"Spiders will not attack, and few are even capable of penetrating the skin with their bites," he said.

The only two found in the United States which are potentially harmful are the Black Widow, distinguishable by a red hourglass marking on its bottom, and the Brown Recluse which has a dark area like a violin on its back, giving it the common name of "fiddleback" spider, he says.

The Black Widow's bite can be fatal to children and can cause breathing difficulty and swelling in adults. It is commonly found near old, deserted buildings and fences, but is easily identifiable as it, like most spiders, hangs upside down in its web.

The bite of the Brown Recluse, seldom seen in Ohio, may require skin grafting, he says, but at worst the bite of any other spider would feel like a bee sting and should be treated similarly.

"Someone stung by a wasp or a hornet would have a more painful reaction than someone bitten by a spider. "If the reaction is exceptional, of course, a doctor should be consulted. But this should be the standard for any kind of wound.

"But to automatically kill a spider is a serious mistake," he says, "because spiders are as important, if not more important, than birds in controlling pests."

The greatest feat of bond signing was performed by L. E. Chittenden, the registrar of the U. S. Treasury. In 48 hours (March 20-22, 1863) he signed 12,500 bonds worth $10 million which had to catch a steam packet to England. He suffered years of hand pain thereafter and the bonds were never used.

Rate Hike Hearings Set

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Public hearings are to begin Thursday on a request by Indiana Bell Telephone Co. to raise rates by about $44.5 million annually. The increases, which would include a 20-cent charge for pay telephones, will be considered by the Public Service Commission. Indiana Bell already has submitted evidence in the case.

Where are they going without more energy?

High school and college graduates swell America's total work force by over a million people each year. They want jobs. They deserve jobs. They're willing and able.

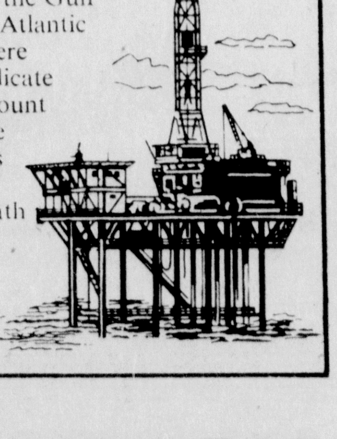
But every job in America depends, in one way or another, on energy. And as our available supplies of energy dwindle, so will the number of jobs. America needs enough energy supplies to support the economic growth that creates more jobs, for more people.

But all primary forms of energy that industry needs — gas, oil, coal, nuclear — are already in short supply.
And things will only get worse unless the urgency for corrective action is recognized in government and by the public.

The most badly needed action is revision of the unrealistic regulations and environmental procedures that are frustrating needed energy supply development.

You can help by learning more about the energy crisis and supporting efforts to provide America with enough energy supplies to meet all its needs, including jobs for the future.

Columbia Gas is spending millions to help solve the energy crisis. We're currently delivering natural gas from wells in a limited area of the Gulf of Mexico. We must develop additional supplies in the Gulf and in the Atlantic Ocean, where surveys indicate a large amount of valuable natural gas lies buried deep beneath the waters.

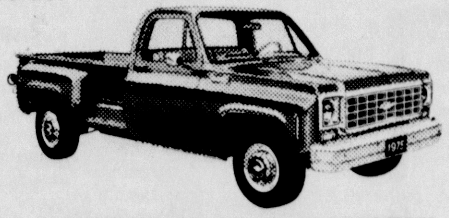


COLUMBIA GAS
Gas is precious, pure energy . . . use it wisely.

Nobody beats Chevy's prices on trucks like these.*

CHEVY STEPSIDE
Nobody beats our price on a full-size 6-cylinder pickup.

We're talking about our C10 model with the 250 Six and a 6½-foot cargo box, with a GVW rating under 6,001 lbs. The engine offers smooth overall performance using unleaded fuel. The truck can go farther now between tune-ups and other scheduled maintenance. And still offers many of the same Chevy value features as our famous Fleetside.



CHEVY VAN
Nobody beats our price on a delivery van.

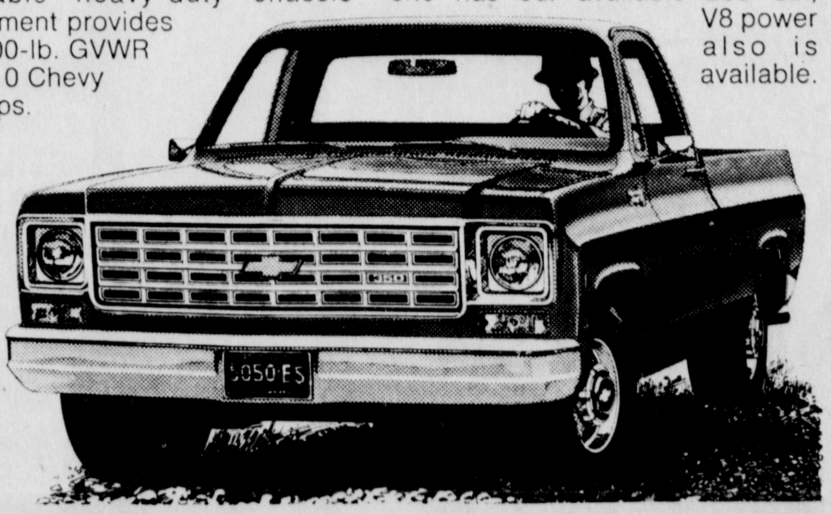
Forward-mounted engine leaves nearly 10 feet of unobstructed load space, even in this G10 model on the compact 110" wheelbase. Yet Chevy Van has a tight turning circle for maneuverability. And a wide-opening front hood for 27 fast and easy service checks. Our 250 Six is standard on 6-cylinder G10 models; a 350 2-bbl. V8 is standard on G10 V8 models.

SUBURBAN
Nobody beats our price on a six-passenger Superwagon.

This Chevy Suburban, a C10 model with a 350 V8, carries six people comfortably. Other versions seat nine passengers or, equipped for towing, move up to 14,500 lbs. including weight of trailer, people, luggage and Suburban. Because under that wagon style and wagon smoothness is a tough truck chassis.

CHEVY FLEETSIDE
Nobody beats our price on a full-size V8 pickup.

And that includes a 350 V8 and a cargo box in the popular 8-foot size. Fleetside also sets high standards with features like Massive Girder Beam independent front suspension with coil springs, High Energy Ignition system and tough, double-wall construction in front fenders, hood, cab, Fleetside body panels and tailgate. Front disc/rear finned drum brakes are computer-matched to gross vehicle weight. Available heavy-duty chassis equipment provides a 6,200-lb. GVWR for C10 Chevy pickups.



EL CAMINO
Nobody beats our price on a luxury pickup.

It's a car when you need a car, a truck when you need a truck. El Camino puts it all together: good looks, good ride, responsiveness, and a 6-ft. pickup box with air-adjustable shock absorbers. This one has our available 250 Six; V8 power also is available.

VEGA PANEL EXPRESS
Nobody beats our price on a closed delivery truck.

It's easy to maneuver and park and very frugal with unleaded gasoline. It delivered 21 mpg in the city test and 31 mpg in the highway test according to the EPA Buyer's Guide (credit light weight and our standard 140-cu.-in. aluminum four-cylinder engine). Raise the liftgate, though, and you see a flat load bed with 68 cu. ft. for cargo. Now that's a big little truck.

See Payroll Probe End This Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An investigation of payroll irregularities in state government after the November election is expected to wind up this week, Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith said.

Smith would not say whether indictments are forthcoming against officials in the administration of former Gov. John J. Gilligan following the three-month probe. However, a source close to the investigation hinted that top level officials will not be charged.

Smith confirmed that "guilty pleas and restitution has been discussed with as many as 10 individuals."

The investigation focused on charges that former Democratic campaign workers were given state jobs after last year's election, but failed to report to their assignments, or did political work.

The county grand jury is scheduled to meet Tuesday for a briefing on the evidence from Smith and special prosecutor Michael Miller.

Ohioan Killed In Plane Crash

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Gerald Harmon Saper of Elryia, Ohio, the pilot of a small private plane, was killed Sunday when the craft nosedived and crashed while taking off at Reynolds Municipal Airport.

His brother Brian is hospitalized today at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor in poor condition.

Witnesses said Saper's single-engine plane apparently stalled during takeoff, nosedived, then flipped over on its top.

Wayne Adams of Albion, an 18-year veteran pilot, said he saw the plane crash on its second takeoff try. He said the initial attempt was aborted when the plane appeared to be going too slow.

Brown Speaker At Commencement

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Former Ohio Lt. Gov. John Brown told the 92nd commencement at Ashland College on Sunday to care for the Republic and restore faith in government.

"Those who would fill this land of ours with fear instead of faith, those who lack faith in our ability, those who do not understand what made this country great surely cannot be trusted with the fulfillment of her future," he told the 500 graduates.

He asked for a rededication to the principals of the founding fathers as the nation's bicentennial approaches.

Hoosier In Captivity

VIENTIANE, LAOS, (AP) — U.S. officials in Laos reported Sunday that Chris Nottingham, 28, of Muncie, Ind., was one of six Americans taken into custody by Laotian students. He is the second Hoosier to be held. The other is Daniel Ster, 28, of Columbus, Ind., who was placed under house arrest Wednesday. Both men are connected with the U.S. Agency for International Development. The students say they want the federal agency out of the country. Both are reported safe.

BICENTENNIAL FOOD—Students at the Washington Elementary School participated in a study of foods which were popular mainstays of the early Americans.

Elementary Students Study Early Foods

Students and teachers at Washington School participated in a Bicentennial program emphasizing foods which our forefathers consumed. Throughout the time period from April 28 to May 9 students researched ingredients and procedures used in preparation of food during the pioneer era of our country.

Grade one, under the direction of Mrs. Brooke and Mrs. Martindale, made butter. Grade two teachers Mrs. Handler and Miss Serian and their students, prepared and baked corn bread. The two grades then combined their products to enjoy hot cornbread with fresh country butter.

Mrs. Akers' and Miss Coe's third grades measured and mixed vegetables, and prepared vegetable soup as a cooperative project. The soup was also shared with the fourth grade, who provided entertainment for the school.

The fourth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Henn and Mrs. Corbett, studied folk dancing and demonstrated to the entire school the dance, "Virginia Reel", carefully explaining each step and movement involved.

Grade five, with teachers Mrs. Schrader and Mrs. Ramsey, concentrated on the making of homemade bread. Mrs. Bonnie Betz and Mrs. Betty Waidelich assisted the classes in preparation of the bread dough. Students enjoyed the bread with butter and homemade jelly.

Miss Beery's and Miss Snyder's sixth grades researched the ingredients needed for making ice cream. Ingredients were mixed and chilled on Thursday and students from both rooms took turns cranking the ice cream freezers on Friday afternoon. The final product was enjoyed by both classes.

Many parents donated time, money, and ingredients for the food study.

Cuban Exiles Rap Ties With Castro

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The United States will lose the respect of its friends and receive the abuse of its enemies if it reestablishes ties with Cuba, a convention of Cuban exiles from midwestern states has declared.

The Cuban Federation of the Midwest, which claims to represent about 3,000 Cubans in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, urged Americans to reject diplomatic recognition of Premier Fidel Castro' regime.

American will gain nothing by granting recognition, said Dr. Isidore J. Amigo, a refugee who now lives in Cleveland. "Americans won't be able to travel freely in the country, or talk freely with Cubans. Castro will not allow freedom of communication," he said.

The group's declaration came Saturday when it held its seventh annual convention.

Body Recovered From Ohio River

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A woman's body, described as "almost a skeleton," was found floating in the Ohio River Sunday near the riverfront area.

Police said they are attempting to determine the victim's identity, but have no leads.

Hamilton County authorities were scheduled to examine the body today in hopes of estimating the woman's age and the length of time it had been in the water.

Rhodes, 43 Others Called In KSU Trial

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Gov. James Rhodes and 43 former Ohio National Guardsmen and state officials have been ordered to be here today as trial opens in a $20 million suit against them stemming from the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

Selection of 12 jurors and their alternates was first on the agenda, and U.S. District Court Judge Don Young of Toledo has required presence of the defendants while jurors are seated.

The number of defendants has shrunk periodically, as lawyers for prosecution and defense agreed to drop names added after filing of the original complaint which cited John Does. Court sources said some of the persons were dismissed on technicalities, others because their connection with the case was too remote.

Seven men were dropped from the list of defendants Friday, but court officials refuse to say why, citing Young's order that no one connected with the case may discuss it with newsmen.

The suit has been brought by parents of four students killed and by eight of nine students wounded May 4, 1970, when guardsmen opened fire during a campus antiwar rally.

Jury selection took a week last year in the criminal trial of eight former guardsmen indicted in connection with the shootings, and Young has said he expects the civil trial to run about three weeks.

The judge has divided the case into two parts. The jury will be asked first to decide whether the defendants should be subject to damages. If three-fourths vote yes, a hearing would be held to determine amounts.

Young ended up with the trial because of a backlog of cases in the eastern division of the federal court. But two New York sociologists who surveyed attitudes about the shootings here and in Toledo said they told the plaintiffs neither city would give them an advantage.

The parents and students have told the court they will try to show that Rhodes and former Kent State President Robert White failed to take adequate precautions to avoid injuries after guardsmen were ordered to the campus. A pretrial brief accuses the governor of calling the guard to Kent to portray himself as a "law and order" candidate in a Republican race for a U.S. Senate nomination.

The complaints originally were filed in U.S. District Court here. Rhodes and other officials pleaded sovereign immunity, saying they acted as public officials. A federal judge agreed and dismissed the complaints without a hearing.

The governor's victory was upheld in a federal appeals court, but last year the Supreme Court disagreed unanimously and ordered the case heard.

The civil trial comes more than six months after the government failed to prove that the eight guardsmen maliciously sought to deprive the students of their civil rights. The acquittals were ordered last November, two days after Rhodes was re-elected governor after a term out of office.

But in dismissing the charges, Chief U.S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti called use of force against unarmed demonstrators deplorable and said a different result might be obtained in civil action.

Cycle Club Rally Ends In Shootout

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio — A motorcycle club rally erupted into gunfire Sunday afternoon, leaving one man dead and at least four others wounded, according to the Butler County sheriff's department.

Authorities said the dispute apparently erupted over a trophy.

The sheriff's department identified the dead man as Billy Schmidt, 33, of Cleves, a Cincinnati suburb where he had moved Saturday from Gary, Ind., with his wife and four children.

A spokesman for Sheriff Harold Carpenter said six persons were wounded,and four of them taken to Middletown hospital.

A hospital nursing supervisor said only one was admitted— Donald Dennis, 47, of Middltown, who was in good condition with a leg wound. Three other men were treated and released, she said.

The shootout took place at a motorcycle field meet on Oxford State Road outside Middletown.

The sheriff's department took statements from witnesses Sunday night.

"We're still trying to find out who did what to whom with which," said detective John Bohlan.

During the motorcycle competitition, "there was a dispute over who should be awarded a trophy," he said, after which the shooting broke out.

The victim was "shot several times with more than one weapon," the department spokesman said.

"There were conflicting statements from witnesses, some saying Schmidt was involved in the initial argument, and others saying he was trying to break it up," the spokesman added.

Five weapons were confiscated, including pistols, shotguns, and sawed-off shotguns, he said.

X-Ray Machine Said Big Advance

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— An X-ray machine, made by Ohio-Nuclear, Inc., that shows the cross section of body organs instead of the conventional flat view promises to make diagnosis of body diseases easier.

The machine also should make Ohio-Nuclear richer, said Richard S. Grimm, president of Technicare Corp., which bought the company in 1970. Since then Ohio-Nuclear has become a leader in nuclear diagnostics.

The machine, named Delta-Scan, moves in a semicircle about the organ or part of the body it is scanning. "The unit then shoots a rifle-like shot (of radiation) at the organ and this is recorded by a computer," Grimm said. "We can also see tissue density as if it were sliced, not like a flat X-ray picture."

In a letter to the corporation's shareholders, Dr. Ralph Alfidi, director of the radiology department at Cleveland Clinic, evaluated the machine: "There is no question that with Delta-Scan differences in tissue density can be demonstrated in some diseases and that changes in organ size and shape are present in others."

Grimm said Delta-Scan has been ordered by Mount Sinai Hospital and the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, both in New York City.

He said that since early this year 20 to 30 doctors a week have been coming to Cleveland to see how the unit works.

The machine puts the company among the leaders in nuclear diagnostics,Grimm said. The firm also makes nuclear scanners, cameras and data systems.

Ohio-Nuclear has seen new orders jump from $2.7 million in 1971 to an estimated $25 million in 1975. In 1970 it had 10 employes and it expects to have 500 by the summer at its new location in Solon, Ohio.

Sales for the Cleveland-based Technicare also have soared largely due to Ohio-Nuclear, Grimm said.

He added that development of Delta-Scan promises to carry on the progress. "The unit has been described as the greatest advance in radiology in the past 50 years," he said.

The highest price quoted for a share of stock in F. Hoffmann-La Roche Chemical Company of Basel, Switzerland, was $43,125.

Metrics To Grow In Steel Industry

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Making steel products available in metric measurements presents a long but not an insurmountable process, steelmakers have told Industry Week.

The Cleveland-based magazine says steel producers are trying to design systems as flexible as possible and with minimal expense. Many products requiring metric units adhere to the "preferred metric sizes," a set of standards set by the American National Standards Institute. But orders for steel outside that range will continue to require English units.

The Cleveland-based magazine says that another problem is with bills of lading which will have to carry metric and English dimensions until carriers are ready to handle the metric system.

Also, there are no standard metric dimensions for structural and wide flange beams. Size description of these products vary in different parts of the world. The American Iron & Steel Institute is trying to set standard sizes for these products.

Progress in converting to the new sizes varies from company to company, the magazine says. Armco Steel Corp., Middletown, Ohio, and U.S. Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, provide metric products and also distribute metric price lists.

Bethlehem Steel, told the editors it is still looking into the new system.

National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, says that on July 1 it will accept sheet, strip and plate orders in metric sizes.

Armco, which accepted its first metric orders in March, says it can supply flat-rolled products in metric dimensions.

U.S. Steel and Armco told the magazine they do not foresee differences in mill prices for standard metric sizes from the equivalent English dimensions, although making some products in metric sizes may involve additional expense.

Most steelmakers expect that in addition to flat-rolled products, the most requested goods in metric sizes will be bars and wire, including fastener material. The automotive market should demand many metric-sized products, the magazine says.

The publication predicts gradual but steady progress in the conversion to the metric system by steelmakers.

The magazine also reports that for the week ended May 17 it estimates raw steel production was 2,341,000 net tons. The net tonnage for week ended May 10 was 2,319,000 tons.

Billy Casper Wins New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Quiet, low-key Billy Casper, perhaps the most unheralded of all pro golf's many champions, is a winner again.

Now the portly, placid, self-contained veteran of more than two decades of tour activity has his sights set on two fall dates.

"I'm going to play steadily through the Western Open (in June)," Casper said after his front-running, two-stroke triumph Sunday in the New Orleans Open.

"I want to get through with the bulk of my schedule by the end of the summer," he said, and smiled broadly. "I want to get home for harvesttime."

The 43-year-old Casper owns one of the largest fruit farms in Utah, outside of Provo, where he raises cherries, peaches and pears — and children. Two weeks ago he became a father for the 10th time. Six of his children are adopted.

In addition to the harvest-time date, he's looking forward to the Ryder Cup matches against Britain's best in Ligonier, Pa. late in September.

He virtually clinched a spot on that 12-man team with his two-stroke victory over Peter Oosterhuis of England. Casper, who had led all the way, had a final round 70 — including a decisive string of three consecutive birdies late in the warm, sunny day — and won with a 271 total, 17 under par on the Lakewood Country Club course.

"Making the Ryder Cup team was one of my big goals for the year," Casper said. "I've been on the team every time since 1961 and I kind of wanted to keep the string going."

It's one of his many accomplishments that are unmatched by current players. He's now won 51 tour titles. He was the second man to reach $1 million in career earnings. He twice won the U.S. Open, once won the Masters. He's won the Vardon Trophy for the low stroke average on the tour four times.

But his name isn't exactly a household word. Part of the reason lies in the fact he'd gone almost two full seasons without an American title.

The victory worth $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and compares with the $2,800 first place check he collected when he won the New Orleans Open in 1958.

Oosterhuis, in his first full season of competition on the American tour, had a 68 for second at 273. Lanny Wadkins, still on the mend from surgery last winter, had a 69—276 and was followed by Bob Wynn, 70—277.

Steve Melnyk, Larry Hinson and veteran Don January were at 278. January, a 45-year-old former PGA champion, had the best round of the day, a six-under-par 66. Melnyk matched par 72 and Hinson had a 68.

Defending champion Lee Trevino never got in the title chase and closed with a 73 for 282.

Perry And Tribe Stop Chisox, 7-6

CHICAGO (AP) — "I'll take the wins instead of the losses anytime," said Gaylord Perry Sunday after the Cleveland Indians had hung on for a 7-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Perry, who had been given but one run in three previous losses, struggled and needed help in gaining his fifth victory against five losses although his teammates staked him to leads of 5-1 and 7-2.

The White Sox finally knocked him out in the sixth inning with the score 7-6. At that point Perry had yielded 11 hits and three walks. Tom Buskey, Dave LaRoche and Dennis Eckersly held the Sox hitless the rest of the way to protect Perry's triumph.

"Maybe I tried to throw too quick out there," said Perry. "I felt real good and I always like to pitch in hot weather. But they hit somewhere nobody was and you have to give them a lot of credit, too."

Manager Frank Robinson shrugged off Perry's poor performance by saying "sometimes things go like that."

Robinson didn't allow his team to work out before the game but instead held a meeting.

"It was just to air things out a bit," said Robinson. "Wanted them to get some things off their minds. I figured it was more important to discuss some things than take batting practice.

"Batting practice hasn't done us much good lately and when you go against Wilbur Wood and his knuckleball, batting practice is useless."

Whatever it was, it paid off. The Indians scored a run in the second on a double by Rico Carty and a single by John Ellis, then knocked Wood out with four runs in the third on a single by Jack Brohamer, doubles by Buddy Bell and George Hendrick and Bogg Powell's sixth home run.

Hendrick closed out Cleveland's scoring with a two-run homer in the fifth off Bill Gogolewski as the Tribe saddled Wood with his seventh loss against two victories.

The Sox found Perry no puzzle. Deron Johnson homered in the second and another run scored in the fourth on singles by Johnson, Tony Muser and Bucky Dent.

They got rid of Perry in the sixth on singles by Dent, Brian Downing, Pat Kelly, Jorge Orta and Carlos May, but after Perry left they were unable to get a hit off the Cleveland bullpen brigade.

The Indians go home to open a two-game series against California Monday night. The Sox remain home and open a three-game set against Baltimore Monday night.

Michigan Wins Big Ten Baseball Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan, behind the strong pitching of Craig Forban and Mark Weber, swept a season-ending doubleheader from Wisconsin over the weekend to capture its first Big Ten Baseball title in 14 years.

The Wolverines, who finished with a 13-3 conference mark, won both ends of the twinbill by identical 4-2 scores. They now advance to the NCAA Regional Playoffs with an overall record of 25-10. Wisconsin closed its season at 9-9 in the Big Ten and and 24-15 over all.

A crowd of 1,800 was on hand in Ann Arbor to watch Forban scatter nine hits in the opener. Weber hurled two-hit ball in 3 2-3 innings of relief in the second game.

The Wolves' first game offensive punch was provided by Mark Grenkoski and Mike Parker who both came up with run-producing triples in the third inning. Michigan trailed 21 in the nightcap, but two walks, a Dick Walterhouse single and two Badger errors in the third inning provided the victory margin.

Meanwhile, Iowa, winners of 20 of it last 23 games, roared past Illinois 4-1 and and 8-4 to claim second place and earn a berth in the post-season championships which convene Thursday. The Hawkeyes finished the season with an 11-4 conference slate, while the Illini dropped to 4-11.

Elsewhere in the Big Ten, Northwestern pounded out 16 hits to push past Michigan State 8-3 in the opener of their twinbill at East Lansing. The Spartans came back to win the nightcap 6-1. The Wildcats closed their season at 6-12. MSU closed at 11-4.

Colonels On Brink Of Crown

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Artis Gilmore has asserted himself and placed the Kentucky Colonels on the brink of their first American Basketball Association title.

The 7-foot-2 Colonel figures to be the key man again tonight when Kentucky attempts to wrap up a four-game sweep of the ABA championship series and run its playoff record to a record-tying 12-2.

In fact, the red-hot Colonels have won 21 of their last 23 games going into tonight's contest at Market Square Arena.

And most observers agree the key to it all has been Gilmore, the man who had fallen victim to a reputation of choking in the big games.

Both teams still are waiting for the result of a protest filed by the Pacers with ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere which possibly could reverse the second game and cut Kentucky's series lead to 2-1.

But, as it stood today, it was Gilmore who gave the Colonels that 95 93 victory last Thursday on a sweeping, left-handed hook with only two seconds remaining. A subsequent 40-footer by Indiana's Billy Keller is the bone of contention.

Pacer officials, saying Keller's three-point field goal came with at least one second showing on the clock, hoped to present the protest to DeBusschere today, with a decision before tonight's game.

Kentucky shook off that controversy long enough to come from behind for a 109-101 victory here Saturday night. And the "Big A" was the big man again.

Martin Starger, head of entertainment programs at ABC-TV since mid-1972, leaves the company June 15 to form his own production company which he says the network will finance but not own.

Starger's firm will be under exclusive contract to ABC for the production of series, specials and made-for-TV movies.

The deal is a bit unusual in one respect. CBS and NBC say they've no companies under contract to produce shows solely for them.

Only one other company—Spelling-Goldberg, Inc.—is under an exclusive ABC contract, Starger says. That firm makes "The Rookies," "S.W.A.T." and the new "Starsky and Hutch" series for ABC-TV.

Question: Why has Starger's company signed an exclusive pact with ABC for TV shows instead of seeking deals with all three networks?

"The reason is two-fold," Starger says. "One is that they (ABC brass) expressed a desire to have 100 per cent of my efforts, which is quite flattering, of course.

"Number two, they financed the company and they asked for the exclusivity in television, which is a very fair kind of return for the financing. So those are really the reasons for it."

He was asked if the move is related to a current federal antitrust suit against the networks which alleges they've excluded from prime time all entertainment shows in which they don't own an interest.

"No, not at all," Starger said. "They (ABC) do not own any interest in this production company. They've financed it, but it is owned by myself 100 per cent. The direction it goes is totally my decision."

He also said ABC's exclusive TV pact with his firm is in no way some sort of precautionary step ABC is taking in the event the courts bar networks from owning an interest in their evening entertainment shows.

"It's not that at all," he said. "The key to it — I'm not a lawyer, but I'm quite certain of this — is who owns what. And that's the whole point of it. As it's set up, it's not ABC's company."

Starger's current post as head of ABC Entertainment has him overseeing not only entertainment shows on TV but also ABC's non-television entertainment projects, such as rock concerts and movies.

The 43-year-old executive, with ABC since 1966, says his new firm will work as an independent producer of non-TV entertainment projects in addition to its exclusive television work for ABC.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

On Tuesday, May 13, the Ohio House passed a $10.7 billion biennial budget bill which established education as its number one priority for the receipt of State monies.

Major money bills yet to be dealt with are the capital improvement bill (H.B. 687) and an operating appropriations bill for the Department of Transportation. The last-mentioned bill has yet to be introduced.

Education, both primary-secondary and higher, is clearly the Legislature's main item of concern when it comes to spending the State's money. Several comparisons demonstrate this fact.

Of the $10.7 billion appropriated, $3.67 billion is going for education. No one subject area receives anywhere near that amount.

Expressing in other terms, 34 per cent of all funds, or 45 per cent of the General Revenue Fund is going for education.

A final fact also demonstrates that education is the Legislature's number one priority. Of the estimated $1.2 billion in new state monies which will be available during the July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1977 period, 57.3 per cent has been singled out for education.

In other areas of significance in the education field, the House approved continuation of the freeze on student tuition fees at Ohio's institutions of higher education. Additionally, the Legislature closed loopholes in existing law by which certain universities were charging to students an additional $10.00 in their general fee than the Legislature intended should be charged when writing the budget bill for the present biennium.

Finally, in the area of instructional grants, the Legislature increased from $15,000 to $17,000 the maximum adjusted effective family income below which a student can qualify for an instructional grant from the Ohio Board of Regents.

Several items of importance in the funding of mental health and mental retardation are worth noting.

First, the per capita subsidy (excluding drug monies) for the community mental health and retardation boards (648 boards) has been increased.

Also third party hospitalization benefit payments (third party meaning Blue Cross, etc.) are authorized for patients (covered by a third party) hospitalized in a tax-supported institution because of mental illness.

Next, transportation money for the trainable mentally retarded, which was first authorized by the Legislature in 1974, has been continued and doubled to $8,400,000.

Additionally, $200,000 was appropriated to fund legal rights services for the mentally retarded. These services were first authorized by the last General Assembly in the passage of S.B. 336.

Finally, in an effort to assure that our State's Mental Health treatment system is functioning as well and as efficiently as it can, a Legislative Mental Health and Mental Retardation Review Committee has been established.

The 10 per cent roll back in real property tax was first authorized by the General Assembly in 1971. The House has approved the continuation of this program, a continuation which will reduce real property taxes across Ohio by $312 million over the next biennium.

The Homestead exemption for the elderly, and an extension of the exemption to the permanently and totally disabled, was authorized. This will result in $67 million in tax relief to the elderly and the disabled.

Finally, a tax credit for married working couples who file a joint state income tax return was approved. This credit will save $48 million for qualifying persons.

The budget bill also includes the pay schedules and reclassification recommendations of the Ohio Civil Service Study Commission. This will assure equity in the state's personnel classifications, and will result in pay increases for state employees.

$66 million in general revenue funds were appropriated for the pay increases.

The budget bill appropriates $323 million of state monies directly to the local governments. This program, called the Local Government Fund, is a continuation program, and proposes giving 15 per cent more to local governments during the next biennuim than the present one.

Before the budget bill becomes law, it must pass the Senate and be approved by the Governor. This process will require about five to six more weeks. Consequently, the budget bill will remain a major item of concern for this 111th General Assembly.

Parents Holding Hopes For Sailor

TORONTO, Ohio (AP)—The parents of a Navy corpsman missing in the Mayaguez rescue off Cambodia continued to hold out hopes today their son was still aive.

James Manning, 47, said he and his wife, Donna, were notified Thursday their son, Navy Corpsman Ronald Manning, 21, was among those missing in the daring rescue of the merchant ship.

Manning's worst fears is that their son was aboard a helicopter shot down in "intermittent and heavy" communist gunfire during the rescue. "That was his job," said the elder Manning. "He was a corpsman attached to the Marines."

Ronald Manning joined the Navy two years ago, his father said, and was attached to a Navy hospital in Portsmouth, Virginia, before he was put with the Marines on Okinawa.

"He just got back from Saigon May 7," his father, a foreman in the shipping department of an alloy plant in nearby Mingo Junction said. "He was on the (USS) Hancock during the Vietnamese evacuations."

"He called his mother, Donna, May 7 when he got back. The 9th was his birthday and Sunday was Mothers Day. When we heard the Marines were going to Cambodia we just couldn't believe he would be going again."

The elder Manning and wife had just returned from the supermarket Thursday afternoon when two Navy officers from Steubenville nine miles to the south showed up at their door.

"They told us he was missing and it was hard to take," he said. "You just wonder why. We just couldn't imagine him going in again. The next day we got the telegram from the Pentagon."

"It hurts," said Manning. "My wife (Donna) is taking it hard. We are a closely knit family."

The Mannings have eight other children, all at home except the eldest, Dorothy Grimm, 22, who was married May 26. Ronald, a 1973 graduate of Toronto High School and a member of the band, was the second child.

The other Manning children are James, 17; Paige, 11; Lori, 10; Stacy, 9, and twins Doug and Dave, 5.

Toronto is an Ohio River town of 7,705 about 5 miles west of Pittsburgh.

HINTS FOR WISE MEAT SHOPPING

You can save money by buying meat wisely so that you get full value for your meat dollar — while you make sure that your family is getting the nutrition they need. Try these tips:

— Buy according to the number of servings you need. (A serving equals 3 oz. lean meat.) Compare both price and yield. It takes 1-lb. spareribs to make a serving, while 1-lb. of a boneless cut produces four or more servings.

— Slice meat before bringing it to the table. Serve only the amount your family will eat.

— Plan at least two meals from the same cut. Use leftovers in dollar-stretching casseroles and salads.

— Lower grades of beef have the same protein value and vitamin content as top grades.

— Be a gourmet while you're saving money. Try chicken livers, beef liver, tongue or heart — high in protein and iron.

— Ground beef is just as nutritious as other meats, but costs less per serving. For extra savings and good nutrition, use the ground beef-soy protein mixture.

(These are just a few of the supermarket shopping suggestions you'll find in a new Kroger consumer information booklet called "100 Wise Ways To Be A Better Shopper." For your free copy, send a stamped, self-addressed long (No. 10) envelope to Consumer Affairs, The Kroger Co., 1014 Vine Street, Cincinnati, Ohio 45201.)
